Music By Heart: Paperless Songs For Evening Worship

Synopsis

Simple, beautiful songs for worship, readily accessible to singers in any size congregation. Includes songs in unison, simple harmony parts, and rounds; most can be sung unaccompanied. Specifically geared to evening and night-time liturgies, often the times of choice for alternative worship, though many can be used at other times. Original music by variety of composers, written to be taught by rote and sung without printed music. Includes teaching notes to help the lead musician be successful. The contributors to this songbook are committed to encouraging a new sacred folk music - music that we can teach to and sing with one another without a hymnal or a piece of paper in our hands. This original music is simple and repetitive, yet holds incredible depth. It allows congregations to become communal music-makers, learning to sing and improvise together in a vital way.

Customer Reviews

This music was intended to be sung by heart. I was looking for material that would not need to go into the general Mass bulletin. In general, I like the material; most is well written, has interesting harmony and there is a good variety throughout the book. However, some of the music is in three parts, and as long as you have a somewhat musically sophisticated singing group all would be well. I'm thinking of a monastery or perhaps convent. However, in the average parish, I think many of the songs would simply not work too well in the sense of being too difficult. Even I had some problems remembering how the melodies and harmonies go, and I had the book in front of me. Overall, I see value in this book. Just be aware that some material might be too challenging for your congregation.
