Customer Reviews

Great fun! I love Gemma Correll's drawings, and I've enjoyed getting to try my hand at drawing cats Gemma-style. The instructions are easy to follow, and my version of a sleeping kitty actually looks like a cat.

Adorable and funny, too! If you have any doubt whether to purchase this doodle book or not, let me take that away for you. Even if you weren't a cat lover which is very unlikely if you are reading this, you will still appreciate the humor in this book. About the book: It starts out with a really cute hand-drawn frame where you can enter your own name (This book belongs to:) Then there is a great Table of Content page in a handwritten font. That alone makes this book worth its money because once you start doodling in it, you can easily find where you left off or where you want to go. I wish more drawing and sketchbooks would have numbered pages as well. So this book is not just a sketchbook, it's also a real book. Next, they go over the how-to's and materials to use for doodling in this book. Fortunately, the paper in this book is of a reasonable weight and quality. Not exactly artist quality but we are doodling here. Now comes something really funny! A list of 20 signs to determine if you are indeed a "cat person". I'm sure you will pass this test and can identify with each sign. This is useful information of course! Further along we are switching to something out of a "My Baby" book, but then for your cat. Answer five bio questions about your cat. Remember, this is important information for future generations! We now start getting into the doodling. Yippee! There are blank pages, pages with prompts, pages with fashionable clothing for your cat. Who else wouldn't like to learn how to draw a cat in a dress? I know I do! I won't go through the entire book with you right here. There is so much more to discover and let it be a surprise. Hopefully soon I will update my review with pictures after I do some doodling in this book. Meanwhile, get your own copy and share your pictures here as well!

Really enjoying this wonderful doodle book. Smart, friendly, funny, and without judgement of your mediocre/growing doodling skill. There are a lot of great prompts, and upon opening, I was really surprised by how thick the book is. Lots of great pictures for me to color and practice myself, and my cat has really been enjoying the portraits I am drawing of him, I think. Using with my favorite felt tip markers (Pentel Color Pen, Set of 36, Assorted (S360-36)) and the paper is thick and great to draw on. Thinking of buying the Doodling for Dog People for my sister, but not sure if that would be betrayal for the cats...

I finally got mine in the mail today! It took quite a while to get here (19 days) but it was worth the wait! I love it and can't wait to start drawing in it! It has some directions on how to draw cats, cat expressions, and has lots of room to draw! There are also lots of cute pages with "facts" and art work. Unfortunately one of my pages has some kind of stain on it but since I'm going to be drawing in it and on top of the stain I'm willing to look over it. Plus it is only on one page. Definitely perfect for any cat lover and artist of any age!

I got this for my 12-year old niece and she loved it. I flipped through it and it has all kinds of different drawings prompts as partially drawn cats. It gives completed examples and suggests all kinds of different options you could add to your own cats. Has plenty of room for you to draw your own cats. No drawing experience needed. Cute book.

My 10 year old daughter loves this doodle book! It is the perfect size for her to carry with her-to school, the car, the orthodontist, etc. She is very into cats and art, so this provides the perfect entertainment. The book is a great combination of facts and silly things, with easy to do steps to draw the kitties. She says her favorite part is drawing what your cat's profession would be, and wanted to make sure that was in her review! Definitely a great buy for a cat lover! While perfect for a ten year old girl, this book would fit any age!

My wife loved paging through this at x-mas. It wasn't the most expensive gift, but it was definitely the one that she spent the most time looking at. Still remains to be seen if she actually doodles in it or just keeps it to page through and laugh at the cats.

This book is very well made, and super cute. I can not wait to give this to my grandma as she is a big cat lover and I know she will love this. I am now wishing I got one for myself as well :) Definaty next time I will get myself this one and the booklovers one as well.
